INDIGNATION CONTINUES.

Meetings to Protest Against the Occupation of Trinidad.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.) BUENOS AIRES, July 30.—By South American Cable. A correspondent in Rio de Janeiro telegraphs that the indignation meetings in protest against the seizure of Trinidad by England continue. These are not confined to Rio de Janeiro, but are being held in all parts of the country. The police last night found it difficult to disperse the great crowd which gathered in the public thoroughfares in Rio de Janeiro.

It is reported that among the late Gen. Peixoto's papers have been found documents offering Trinidad to the United States. The late ex-president, as their documents are now to show, also offered Trinidad to France and Spain, lands on the Amazon to countries who would grant no recognition to the rebels in the last revolution.

AMBASSADOR BAYARD TALKS.

LOS ANGELES, July 30.—United States Ambassador Bayard, referring to the report of the seizure of the island of Trinidad by Great Britain and the agitation in Brazil on that subject, said to the representative of the Associated Press today that the incident was a trifling one. The island was very small and was occupied by a few goats, and British ships merely stopped to lay claim. Great Britain, he continued, did not claim the island; in fact, it is not worth claiming. Like most South American governments, Bayard said, Brazil was easily excited over nothing.

Chased an Attorcy.

HENNESSY (Okla.), July 30.—A posse of vigilantes, which had been scouring the country in search of horse thieves, gave Lee Gray, a leading attorney of Hennessy, a ten-mile chase late yesterday afternoon. Gray had been visiting his father's ranch forty miles west, and was returning when seen by the vigilantes. They were hunting for a band of outlaws they were hearing about, and, fearing that if he halted within range they would shoot him, he put spurs to his horse and not until after a hard ride did he evade them.

A Lawrence, Kan., Outrage.

LAWRENCE (Kan.), July 30.—Laura Studyan, the 15-year-old daughter of Mrs. Studyan of Baldwin, was assaulted by an unknown assailant last night. She was found unconscious in a field near the house. Her clothing was torn and there were other evidences of violence. The police, who at first thought she had been drugged, but she complained of a pain in her head, when she recovered and it is thought she had been slugged. The sheriff and other officers have gone from Lawrence to investigate.

To Relocate Wygant.

DENVER (Colo.), July 30.—The Arapahoe County Commissioners this afternoon adopted a resolution providing for the reinstatement of T. H. Wygant as treasurer, provided he presents a good bond in the sum of $50,000 before noon, August 2. The treasurer's office will remain closed until Thursday, and it is thought he has not been able to complete his bond by that time his attorney says he will formally resign his office.

"SOUTH PASS," July 30.—To Gov. W. A. Richards. There is a band of from one hundred to three hundred Indians within a half-day's ride of here. They are Indians and things look shady here....We have plenty of ammunition and many but no guns. You can send a few stands of arms?"

Shortly after the receipt of the above the following was received from Lewiston, in the same district:

"LEWISTON, July 30.—To Gov. W. A. Richards: Can you send us guns? Indians are near here."

(Signed.) E. A. GUSTIN.

The Governor says that these Indians, no doubt, are Utes from Durchesne, who are hanging around in the hope that there will be a big fight with the Bannocks, which will give them an opportunity to make an attack on these settlements and get pack to their reservation before the troops could interfere with them. These settlements are about thirty-five miles south of Lander, and the Governor says that he does not believe they are in any danger, unless there should be a fight in Hoback Valley. He referred the dispatches to R. D. Woodruff of Rock Springs, inspector-general of the State militia, with instructions to use his discretion in the matter.

SCATTERED BANDS.

DENVER (Colo.), July 30.—A news special from Lander, Wyo., says that a courier just arrived from Clark's ranch, at the head of Big Wind River, reports that the sheriff's posse were to leave there this morning for Jackson Hole, by way of Union Pass. The Indians have started forest fires in the heavy timber along the pass, but Sheriff Grimmett made up his mind to attempt the passage with his party. J. Miller has just arrived from the mines and reports a camp of 300 Indians near Oregon Buttes, not far from South Pass City. He says they are unaccompanied by squaws or papoose, and it is probably a war party, but whether they intend to attack the Sweetwater miners or go around to the New Fork country is not yet apparent.

The men of long experience in that locality, Miller says, are of the opinion that these Indians mean trouble. Mounted men will leave here tonight in small squads to scour the country, not only to look after Indians, but to warn settlers as well. These Indians have been assembling there for the past three days. A party of forty-seven Sioux were seen on the Badwater Ranch, and Flint himself, though given every opportunity, will not talk. He persists in declaring that the case against him is a conspiracy, but he will not talk about any of the charges, with which he admits he is acquainted. He expressed great confidence in the outcome, but his friends are not sanguine, as they say better men than he have been retired by this administration simply because grave charges have been brought against them.

FLINT NOT VOLUBLE.

ALL HE WILL SAY IS THAT HE IS CONSPIRED AGAINST.

His Friends Are Not Sanguine of the Outcome—They Claim That Better Men Than He Have Been Retired Because of the Charges Brought Against Them.

BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TIMES)

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—(Special Dispatch.) Postoffice inspectors refuse to give out any revelations of the investigation of the charges against Railway Mail Superintendent Flint, and Flint himself, though given every opportunity, will not talk. He persists in declaring that the case against him is a conspiracy, but he will not talk about any of the charges, with which he admits he is acquainted. He expressed great confidence in the outcome, but his friends are not sanguine, as they say better men than he have been retired by this administration simply because grave charges have been brought against them.

Those familiar with the railway mail service say that Flint was not in condition to attend to business during the strike last summer, and they declare that if Culver's charges cover this period they can be sustained.

PUT TO FLIGHT.

A Godly Congregation Shocked by Red Bloomers.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

MASON (O.) July 30.—The good people of the Methodist Church here received a shock last night when Miss Ada Coleman, one of the belles of Warren county, the daughter of one of the wealthiest farmers in this section and the organist of the church, marched down the center aisle of the church at prayer-meeting, clad in red bloomers or the most fashionable cut. The members of the church fled to their homes horrified beyond description, the pastor and Miss Coleman's friends concluded the services the young woman playing the organ.

"Let me tell you," said he, "the Indians are without a knowledge of the game laws of the States. Everything comes to the red man by tradition. The fathers make treaties and these are handed down from generation to generation. They are taught that the Great Father at Washington has granted certain privileges and rights which they are to hold during good behavior. They cannot and do not understand that when Idaho and Wyoming entered the union of States that the United States no longer controlled the game of this country. The best efforts of Indian agents will fail very soon as they come to power."

A French Editor Dead.

NEW YORK, July 30.—Leo Munzer, one of the proprietors of the Courier des Etats Unis and its former managing editor, died yesterday in Paris.

Munzer, after his retirement from active service, was one of the most prominent figures in Franco-American journalism.

INDIAN SCARE.

Settlers Are Recovering From Fright.

Advent of the Troops Has a Good Effect.

The Latter Send the Police Ahead to Counsel the Redskins.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA—Page 11.

What Alarm There Is Prevails Now in Fremont County—Gov. Richards Has Been Telephoned to for Firearms.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

DENVER (Colo.), July 30.—A news special from Cheyenne, Wyo., says that a private dispatch received from Marke Lake tonight states that the Ninth Cavalry is now encamped in Teton Basin, forty miles from Marysville. The troops will not be moved into Jackson Hole until the return of the Indian police, who were sent ahead to induce the hostiles to return to their reservations. The reports from Marysville show that the excitement is dying out and many of the settlers are returning to their homes. The news of the near approach of the troops has created a better feeling among the settlers.

The dispatch states that the settlers had arranged to make an attack on the Indians in force, with the intention of driving them out of the country, but, after receiving the message from Gov. Richards, advising them to act only on the defensive, they changed their minds. It is claimed that it will be necessary to keep the troops in the field all summer, as the Indians can only be held in check by the presence of the soldiers, even if they leave the country without a fight.

The dispatch states that the settlers short of making them understand this subject. The general government will be obliged to appoint council-meetings of these tribes at which an opportunity will be given for a full discussion of the subject. Then and not until then is there hope for the new order of things brought about by the annexation of the new commonwealths."

Coolidge then went on to say that the Indian could not possibly learn by any other method than that which comes from tradition, and that he should not be blamed for this, as it is his natural condition.

NO FIGHTING.

MARKE LAKE (Idaho), July 30.—A courier has arrived here from the soldiers' camp at Moody's Lake, Idaho, and says as it is now pretty certain that there is no fighting going on in Jackson Hole and very little danger of any taking place, the troops will be withdrawn as soon as possible and will march to any hard marches and it will be Wednesday or Thursday before their destination is reached. No authentic reports of a warlike character have been received by the general from the Jackson Hole country. On the contrary reliable information has been received to the effect that the Indians have not molested by the Indians.

The reported shooting and wounding of Capt. Smith, a prospector, by an amibushed Indian, has not been verified, and it is doubted whether the shooting was done by Indians. The uncertainty that exists as to the number of Indians in the hole makes it impossible to determine whether the troops will be called upon to fight the Indians or protect them. Agent Teter and his Indian police insist that there are not more than half a dozen Fort Hall Indians in the Jackson Hole country.

ROOSEVELT ON INDIANS.

NEW YORK, July 30.—In spite of the Bannock Indian trouble, President Roosevelt of the Police Commissioners said the worst calamity that could befall an Indian was to allow him to kill game. Speaking from wide experience he said the Indians salvation lies in his becoming civilized, and consequently he should be freed from wild sports as much as possible.

Roosevelt said that Bannock Indians generally were considered a friendly tribe and not by any means "bad Indians" such as the Sioux and the Arapahoes. They are very brave and will fight like devils when cornered. According to the Commissioner they have a great desire for fame, but the only fame they undertake is to be gained by gathering scalps and stealing horses.

property. It was agreed that the case be dismissed and Pitzel was so advised and urged to hold on to his secret.

PREPARED TO PROVE MURDER.

CHICAGO, July 30.—Lawyer Kappa, the Fort Wayne attorney, today said he is prepared to prove the murder of Annie and Minnie Williams by Holmes, Pitts, Quinlan and another man whose identity he refuses to divulge. "This man has been located by a detective and is ready to confess," said Kappa today, "on condition that the man guarantees immunity from punishment."

The lawyer said he now knows that the girls were killed in the Sixty-third-street house, and knows where they are buried.

BLOWN DOWN.

A Storm That Surprised the Oldest Inhabitants at Booneville.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT)

BOONEVILLE (Mo.) July 30.—The worst storm of wind and rain in the memory of the oldest inhabitant passed over this city last night. No fatalities were reported, but the destruction of property was great. Two warehouses and an old packing-house were blown down on the river front. The State Reform School for Boys was unroofed. The cupola of the courthouse was torn off, and the spires of the Catholic and the Baptist churches were damaged. Shade trees were thrown down in places, blocking the streets. The following places were more or less damaged: The Hall Block; the Windsor Block, the Commercial Hotel, besides several dwellings. The telephone lines are down everywhere, and a great deal of damage was done to fences and outbuildings.

ALABAMA RACE WAR.

A FIGHT OVER A DISCHARGED NEGRO MINER.

The Latter Fires Upon Two Deputies and Kills One and the Other Is Fatally Wounded—White Men Then Take Up the Fury.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT)

BIRMINGHAM (Ala.) July 30.—A riot is raging at Brookside, fourteen miles west of here, between negroes and whites over the killing of a deputy sheriff by a negro. Four men are reported killed. Fifteen deputies left for the scene at 11 o'clock.

The fight was between an organized band of white miners headed by Deputy Sheriffs A. T. Wood and Joel Baxter, who were trying to arrest Jim Biggers, a negro, and a crowd of the latter's friends. Over one hundred and fifty shots were fired.

At 11 o'clock, the vice-president of the Shoe Company discharged Biggers for a violation of mine rules. He remained about the place and made threats, and a warrant was sworn out for trespass. Deputy Sheriffs Wood and Baxter went to arrest Biggers. As they approached, Biggers fired upon them with a Winchester. A bullet passed through Wood's arm, and another hit him in the neck, killing him instantly. Baxter was mortally wounded, but was able to get back to the camp and give the alarm.

The white miners at once organized and went to arrest Biggers. The latter meantime had called on a number of his negro friends and when the two parties met a pitched battle resulted, the negroes being the victors. They killed half a dozen or more were shot down, several of whom were killed outright and the others badly wounded. Whether any of the whites were wounded or not cannot be learned. The names of the killed and wounded negroes could not be had. The town of Brookside is in a state of great excitement, every man in town is armed. Shooting continues at intervals for two hours or more.

Late tonight word reached here from the telegraph operator at Brookside saying that an attack by the negroes is feared. When the first news of the fight reached here Sheriff Morrow and Chief of Police McDaniel sent for all the available officers and a caravan of them started at 11 o'clock for the scene of the riot.

OUT OF ITS BANKS.

Sedgwick County, Kan., Deluged by the Arkansas River.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT)

WICHITA (Kan.) July 30.—The Arkansas River is out of its banks and many thousands of acres of Sedgwick county along its course are under water. The damage will be heavy in some localities, particularly below this city, where gardening is carried on extensively. In some places cabbages and other vegetables are being gathered from boats. Quite a number of families have been compelled to vacate their houses. Travel across several bridges below the city is cut off because of the high water, but the bridges are all intact. The river is higher than it has been since 1877.

AROUND FORT SCOTT.

FORT SCOTT (Kan.) July 30. An unprecedented precipitation of rain in the southeast corner of Kansas this morning has again flooded the streams and wrought destruction to life and property. In seven hours 4.22 inches of water fell in the city and this evening the entire lower portion of the town is inundated.

Two fatalities have so far resulted from the sudden rise. The Missouri Pacific Railroad shops are surrounded and the train service has been partially abandoned. Many families have been driven from their homes by the trespassing river, which is still rising and another storm is threatening. The Matamoros River, Mill Creek and the Buck Run have become one stream, spreading over sections of land which have not for years been submerged.

Walter Austin and William Gould, two young boys, were drowned this evening on one of the principal streets, and O. Austin, father of one of the boys, was carried one hundred yards in the treacherous current and finally rescued from the water by a teamster. Austin, accompanied by the boys, attempted to cross Mill Creek bridge, which was surrounded by water in a wagon. They proceeded 150 feet through the water when the wagon and horses were swept away. He made a desperate effort to rescue them, but was helpless and they were drowned. He was carried down and later found in a tree.

The bodies had not been recovered at nightfall. The Missouri Pacific passenger train left for Topeka on time, but had to return, and all traffic on that branch has been abandoned. The damage is estimated at $100,000. The crop of the 5th inst. which was more destructive than any for years. The crops on bottom farms will suffer materially.

Methodist Ministers Safe.

LONDON, July 30.—Rumors that all the Methodist ministers in China, who were in grave danger, are now safe in Shanghai have been received. They had many narrow escapes on their way from Chang-Tu.

Choked to Death.

CHOCTAW CITY (Okla.) July 30.—Mrs. J. F. Litcham, living north of town on her way to the city on an electric trolley tour, was today fined for participating in that affair.

A 'FRISCO MYSTERY.

JAMES D. COOK LEAVES TOWN SUDDENLY.

His Superiors and Associates in the Southern Pacific Office Are Nonplussed.

The Officials Say His Accounts Are All Right, but Rumor Says Differently.

The Missing Man Was the Representative of the Railroad Company in the Half-Million Club Jaunt to Los Angeles.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TIMES)

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—Special Dispatch.—James D. Cook, who for many years has occupied a prominent position in the office of the general passenger and ticket agent of the Southern Pacific Company, is among the missing, and T. H. Goodman, as well as those immediately under him, are much concerned as to his whereabouts. Cook has been missing since Monday of last week. He was seen at Sacramento on Tuesday of last week, and later on in Oregon.

Some mystery surrounds the sudden disappearance of Cook. The officials in the passenger department declare that he is not short in his accounts, as far as they can ascertain, though rumors floating about the general office which would seem to indicate that the missing man did not leave his affairs in a satisfactory condition. A large number of mileage tickets are purchased in the general passenger office during the course of a month, and what with the money received in exchange of second-class for first-class tickets, Cook had the handling of considerable Southern Pacific coin.

Cook has always stood high in the estimation of Goodman and the assistant general passenger agents and has been regarded as a capable and honest employee. So much confidence was reposed in him that at the time of the Half-million Club's excursion to the Los Angeles Fiesta, Cook was selected from the office force to go along with the excursion as a representative and escort of that department. During the trip he handled a great deal of the company's money, but, so Goodman says, his accounts were settled up immediately upon his return, and he accounted for all money handled during the trip.

From what can be learned, Cook has not left the city with the expectation of returning in a hurry, for he carried with him from his late residence two grips and all his personal effects. He is an unmarried man and has been living with his brothers and sisters. Cook's closest friends in the railroad building are unable to account for his actions for they had no intimation that he intended to leave the city.

THE TAYLOR BROTHERS.

Testimony for the Defense Taken in Court Yesterday.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT)

CARROLLTON (Mo.) July 30.—In the Taylor trial today the first witness was William McClellanahan, whose testimony was more favorable to the State than to the defense. He confirmed the evidence given by State witnesses as to the Taylor's harrowing over the wagon tracks made by the Taylors in their return from the alleged murderous expedition.

James C. Taylor, father of the prisoners, was the next witness. He denied that he was with the Taylors the morning following the murder. When asked how the wagon bed had been burned, he said that it probably caught fire from sparks from a fire used in the yard for boiling soap. On cross-examination he became excited, and contradicted himself badly, and made statements entirely at variance with his former testimony.

Mrs. Mattie Van Wye and her daughter, formerly neighbors of the Taylors, were both on the stand. They testified that Bill Taylor was at the Bank of Browning on the night the murder was committed.

George Taylor, one of the defendants, on the stand recited the doings of him, his wife and his brother on the day before and on the day succeeding the murder.

He testified that he was at home on the night of the murder. Next morning a boy told him of the finding of the bodies of the murdered family, and his brother then fled. William Taylor then succeeded his brother on the stand, but nothing of importance was elicited from him. The defense so far has strengthened its case, and will probably rest when William Taylor concludes tomorrow.

BOGUS STAMPS.

A Satchel Containing Twenty-eight Thousand Dollars Worth Found.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT)

BUFFALO (N. Y.) July 30.—Secret-service detectives have found a satchel containing $28,000 worth of bogus stamps, which belonged to Mrs. McMillan alias Mrs. McKay of Hamilton, Ont., who is now in jail awaiting trial for participation in a stamp-counterfeiting scheme. The satchel was found on the terrace near the house of a person whose name is withheld, and who may be a member of the gang. The search for the satchel has taken two months. Mrs. McKay fainted when she heard of it.

YOUNG DESPERADOES.

The Horse-thieves Kill a Couple of Deputy Sheriffs.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT)

DENVER (Colo.) July 30.—A news special from Evanston, Wyo., says that two young desperadoes who have been stealing horses in this vicinity were located last night by a sheriff's posse. A boy told him of the finding of the bodies of the murdered family, and his brother then fled. William Taylor then succeeded his brother on the stand, but nothing of importance was elicited from him. The defense so far has strengthened its case, and will probably rest when William Taylor concludes tomorrow.

ITALIANS DROWNED IN A CUT.

(COLUMBUS (O.) July 30.—A cyclone and cloudburst at Wellston today flooded the streets and cellars, carrying away the waterworks and dam, drowning some Italians working in a steel-railway cut before they could escape.

WANTS THREE MILLIONS Royalty.

(CHICAGO, July 30.—Harry M. Stow began suit today against the city of Chicago for $3,000,000. Stow claims that he was awarded a patent in 1874 on a method for paving streets with cedar blocks and the city of Chicago has used his method since then without paying any royalty. He figures that $3,000,000 is due him.

A New South Wales Subsidy.

(WELLINGTON (N. S. W.) July 30.—An 18-months' subsidy will be paid to-day to the Colonial Treasurer stated that the government had decided to subsidize a line of steamships to run between this island and Vancouver, B. C. The amount of the subsidy proposed is £20,000. A bill has been introduced which proposes action looking toward co-operation with the government of Canada on the matter of the construction of a Pacific submarine cable.

Lord Wodenhouse Fined.

(LONDON, July 30.—Lord Wodenhouse, eldest son of the Earl of Kimberley, who led the mob that attacked Rider Haggard, the novelist, and party at the Foreign Office yesterday, it was expected that the speaker would be discussed. All the ministers were loudly cheered.

A SHOCKING EXPERIENCE.

Starving Colonists in Liberia Eat Dead Men and Snakes.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT)

PHILADELPHIA, July 30.—At the Wayfarers' Lodge, Lombard street, homesick and destitute, are three negroes from Arkansas, who have returned from Liberia, whether they went as colonists some time ago. Of nearly a hundred companions in the expedition, some are said to have died of starvation and others are sick out a dead existence in Africa.

The three men are farmers of Jefferson county, Ark. They say the International Emigration Society of Birmingham, Ala., offered twenty-five acres of land to every colonist and used the name of the colony after the Bishop H. M. Turner of Atlanta, Ga. The subscribers were required to pay $400 in advance by instalments, and their passage to Savannah. In return they were given their passage, food and the land on arrival. The ship sailed in March for Liverpool with ninety-five colonists, who were in the care of the society's secretary. The men declare they were simply dumped ashore and told to shift for themselves. A score of their comrades died of climatic fever, and some, it was reported, perished from starvation. Work could be secured, and the flesh of dead animals and snakes was seized with avidity for food.

Shelton and his two neighbors saw no hope for them in the colony, and in obtaining passage to Liverpool, and thence to Philadelphia, except help from Arkansas, which will enable them to return to their homes.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT)

NEW LONDON (Conn.) July 30.—The Vigilant beat the Defender today in a run of sixty-four miles from Eaton Point on the Long Island shore, five miles from Huntington Harbor to this port. The cup defender gave up the race not far from this place because her steering gear became deranged.

A strong southwest-by-south breeze, varying in strength from eighteen to twenty-two knots, blew throughout the greater part of the race, which was a broad reach on the starboard tack from start to finish, and with hardly the shift of a sail. When the Defender dropped out, it was estimated that she was fully five minutes ahead of the Vigilant, and the new yacht was looked on as a sure winner, barring accidents, but the unexpected accident occurred, and the Defender received her first defeat.

A better day for racing than today could not be imagined. The wind was strong and true, and increased in strength until this port was reached, when a stiff twenty-two-knot breeze was encountered just as the yacht New London, a severe wind, rain and squall, lasting about an hour, sprang up and set the people at Bridgeport and New Haven wondering whether the smaller yachts were caught out in it. Happily, such was not the case, and, barring the damage to the Defender's steering gear, the splitting of one of her clear topsails and a blow from a large wave, there were no accidents to record.

The Vigilant had a little the best of the start and kept well ahead for some time. Finally, however, she got into a running match with the Defender, the latter pressing her closely, and the Defender, working up ahead, got to windward and away. The Vigilant was estimated that the Defender was about five minutes ahead. When nearing New London she suddenly luffed up, lowered topsails, signaled for a tug and was towed to shore in the harbor. The general opinion expressed after it was ended was that the Defender would have undoubtedly won the race and she was unable to finish. The Vigilant therupon sailed grandly across the line and up the harbor, winner in 4h. 40m. 37s.

The race across the sound was one of the finest ever witnessed by the oldest yachting here. The breeze was strong enough to test the sail-carrying power of the small yachts, and they all clung to the full sail from scratch to finish, and made a strong record-breaking pace. The result of today's race demonstrated very little, unless it is that on a broad reach over sixty miles in a stiff breeze, the Defender will be a sure winner. The L.A.W. has nominated George Barker and John S. Johnson to represent America in the professional events, and the fast foreign riders will compete in both the amateur and professional races. This will be the first year for the international association to hold professional championship races, and as a result some exceptionally good racing is expected.

It is unlikely that the L.A.W. will be represented in the amateur events, but several Canadian riders will compete. The international races this year are exciting widespread interest in view of the fact that the wonderful progress made in racing in the various countries is sure to result in some spirited contests and decide who are the champions in the respective classes.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT)

CHICAGO, July 30.—Dan Creedon, who broke a knuckle of his left hand, and which is resting like a walnut on top of the hand, arrived in Chicago from New York last night. He met with an accident in the first round of his twenty-five-mile contest with Billy Higgins in Boston, and was unable to finish. In describing how the hand was broken, or rather how the knuckle was knocked out of its place, Dan said that every time he led with his left hand he would dodge, causing his lead to circle around his opponent's head.

After getting away with this trick about half dozen times, Captain Higgins did not extend his lead as far as he previously had, and in so doing struck Higgins on the side of the head and broke the knuckle. With his hand in the present condition he can never engage in another fight. He believes, though, that if it is broken again and the result will be of no avail.

In describing how the hand was broken, or rather how the knuckle was knocked out of its place, Dan said that every time he led with his left hand he would dodge, causing his lead to circle around his opponent's head.

The engineer appointed to study the harbor works at Coatzacoalcos and Salina Cruz has returned, and is preparing a report. Immediately on the completion of the report the government will do what it can to be of assistance to the harbor.

The management of the Intercoastal Railroad, owned in London, is complying with the suggestions of the Minister of Communications to be made in permanent way. There is no restriction between the company and the government. During the last six months the traffic on the Tehuantepec Railroad has quadrupled, and the government hopes that by the close of the year the road will cover its expenses.

The Constellation of Boston, in the schooner class, made a remarkable run, covering the course in 4h. 30m. 54s., a really remarkable performance. She was the first yacht to reach this harbor, and in time completed with the Defenders.

COAST RECORD.
ACTORS AT COURT.

THE CRIME OF A CENTURY IS UNDONE.

Judge Murphy Makes Some Remarks Upon the Subject of "Hamlet."

Then Permits Manager Daily to Rest in Jail Pending a Further Hearing of the Case.

San Francisco Fire-savers Sue Another "Jack the Kisser"—Afro-American Congress—A Denial of Brady's Confession.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.) SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—Judge Murphy's courtroom looked as though the Durrant trial were in progress today, but it wasn't. Instead, the actors and manager of the Alcazar Theater held the boards in an endeavor to show why they should not be punished for contempt for playing "The Crime of a Century" in defiance of an order of the court.

The case of W. R. Daily, the manager of the company, was first called. His attorney endeavored to show that the play had no reference to the Durrant case, but Judge Murphy said it made no difference if the play were "Hamlet." The play itself cut no figure; it was the violation of the injunction of the court instead of taking a legal action to have the induced set aside that constituted the contempt. The case was not finished and was postponed until Saturday. Meanwhile Daily will rest in jail unless he can procure bonds.

Last night when the play was stopped Daily announced from the stage that the performance would go on as usual tonight, but Judge Murphy made the actors promise that they would make no further attempt to produce the play, and they were allowed to go.

BARRETT RELEASED.

SANTA CRUZ, July 30.—W. F. Barrett, who accused himself of the Emanuel Church murders, was released from jail today, having recovered from his hallucination.

THE LEADING CASE.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—The trial of the Durrant case has gone over until tomorrow to serve another jury panel, the first hundred and fifty names being exhausted in an effort to get two jurors.

THE BRADY REWARD.

A Score or More of Claimants—Ditzer's Demand.

SACRAMENTO, July 30.—The reward for Jack Brady, the train-rober, amounts to about $12,500. There are a score or more of men who will claim a portion of the money, and many of them have already filed their claims with the railroad and express officials. Officers employed by those companies who engaged in the chase for the bandit will not be permitted to take any of the reward.

Ex-Senator William Johnstone, whose son, William, accompanied Brady's party, with the assistance of Deputy Sheriff McDonald, had a conference today with the railroad officials over the disposition of the reward. George Ditzler, manager of the ranch near Biggs, from whom Brady stole a horse, was in the city yesterday for the same purpose, and will at once file a claim for his share of the $12,500 reward. He notified the officials a few weeks ago that Brady had passed through Biggs and he was then easily traced to Middle Creek Shasta county, where a lively gun fight took place.

MADE NO CONFESSION.

SACRAMENTO, July 30.—Sheriff Johnson, Detective Thacker and some other officials who claim to know what they are talking about, declare that Jack Brady did not make a confession to the effect that he and Browning robbed the express train near Sheep Camp, in Yolo county, last October.

Now, however, the officials, however, the account of the robbery created as having been related by Brady, and published in the Associated Press news columns today may be depended upon. The facts come from a high authority and reliable source. What is to be accomplished by setting forth that Brady did not make the confession is not apparent at the time, unless it is to give the officers more time in which to search for the treasure stolen from the train.

There is a general impression that the money secured by Brady and Browning and by them hidden under some bushes a short distance from the rail road was found and carried away by tramps. The place where the money was buried was the rendezvous of tramps, and the search for the coin brought to light blankets, rubber coats and cooking utensils which had been hidden by men of that class.

A WOODLAND TRAGEDY.

An Indignant Husband Shoots a Disreputable Character.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.) WOODLAND, July 30.—Philip Fink, a barker, shot and probably fatally wounded Tony Zimmerman this evening at Fink's residence on Fourth street. Zimmerman called at the house of Fink's widow and asked to borrow a fishing net. Mrs. Fink lent him the net, but still Zimmerman hung around the house. Mrs. Fink saw that he was drunk and ordered him out of the yard, but he refused to leave and began to abuse Mrs. Fink by calling her vile names.

In a short time Fink arrived home and when informed by his wife of Zimmerman's actions immediately ordered Zimmerman out of the yard. Zimmerman refused to go and Fink attempted to pin him down with a tumbler. Zimmerman struck Fink two or three times in the face and then Fink pulled his revolver and fired, the ball entering the left side of the abdomen. Fink was arrested.

"JACK THE KISSER."

He or His Double is Operating at San Francisco.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.) SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—A local paper says that a suit for $50,000 is to be brought against the city and the Spring Valley Water Company by owners of property destroyed during the great fire south of Market street four days ago. The grounds of the suit will be based on the inadequate location of hydrants and smallness of mains.

A Two Years' Term.

SACRAMENTO, July 30.—Judge Cain, in town to sentence George Fink to a two-years' term at the State's prison at Folsom for attempting to burn down the Eureka Restaurant on J street.

A Surprise for Howell.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—It is said that the Federal authorities have a surprise in store for M. D. Howell, the wealthy Stockton man, to be tried for counterfeiting. At his first two trials Howell tried to prove that the counterfeit coin found in his safe was placed there by him at the request of and then she ran up the street as fast as she could.

Ten minutes later a young matron with a black mustache saw her and noticed that she was a very nice looking young matron. He placed himself in her path and when she stopped for fear that she would jump into the "bumper," he pushed out his hand and with his forefinger tickled her under the chin. So thoroughly surprised was she that she just stood still and looked. Then the man pinched one of her plump cheeks saying never a word, but grinning foolishly all the while. That raised her and once more a batch of screams was discharged. The woman's screams brought a crowd and a policeman and the man whose passion for stolen sweets had caused all the trouble, was loaded into a patrol wagon and taken to jail.

A DOUBLE KILLING.

The Murderer of a Collector of Customs Slain.

SAN DIEGO, July 30.—Antonio Baunet, collector of customs at San Quintin, was shot in the back and killed yesterday by Juan Barroso at Rosario.

Policarpio Espinoza, a justice of the peace, then retaliated by killing Barroso on the spot. Espinoza is under arrest.

Baunet had charge of the custom-house at San Quintin, Barroso being his inspector. Yesterday morning they were at Rosario, looking after customs. While in the office of Justice Espinoza, Barroso attempted to take a telegram to San Quintin. Barroso refused, and a quarrel followed and Barroso snatched a rifle that stood in the corner and shot Baunet in the back, killing him instantly. Justice Espinoza attempted to arrest Barroso, but the latter drew a pistol and fired several shots at the one, taking effect.

Espinoza then grappled with Barroso and got the latter's weapon, every chamber of which had been emptied.

Barroso swore that he would have Espinoza's life. The latter then ran out and shot Barroso in the back, killing him.

The bodies of both Baunet and Barroso were placed in a wagon and taken to San Quintin. Justice Espinoza accompanied them and surrendered himself. Baunet was much respected and layed a widow to five children. Barroso was hospitalized and once attempted to kill a woman with whom he lived. Espinoza has an arrest warrant issued against him.

AN A. P. A. POLICE LAW.

THE SITUATION AT OMAHA IS VERY CRITICAL.

Taxpayers Beg the Attorney-General to Test the Appointment of the New Commission in the Court and Save Bloodshed—A Tart Letter.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

OMAHA (Neb.), July 30.—Tomorrow night the so-called A. P. A. police law goes into effect and the situation in Omaha is growing more critical hourly.

Two police forces and troublous gale are imminent. One hundred of the most prominent, wealthiest taxpayers of Omaha tonight addressed a prayer to the Attorney-General and other members of the Board having the appointment of the new commissioners, begging the Attorney-General to accept the Governor's suggestion and ask the Supreme Court to test the law at once and avoid serious trouble. The petition further says:

"We invoke your corporation to avert the danger of serious disturbances and probable loss of life and destruction of property in this city by the impending conflict between appointees on the police and fire departments of rival and political commissioners. Such a conflict should, if possible, be prevented, not merely on account of its terrible consequences, but for the sake of the good name of this city and State."

SIMON WORMSER.

The Well-known Banker Dies at New York of Apoplexy.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.) LONDON, July 30.—(By Atlantic Cable.) M. Andre has received the sanction of the Swedish Scientific Society to his balloon project in search of the north pole, and has received a liberal donation to help defray expenses from King Oscar of Sweden. Sufficient funds have in fact been obtained and the attempt is assured, but M. Andre naturally desires the approval of such an authoritative body as the International Geographical Congress. He explains that M. Von Paris has entered into a contract to make the machine of double strength, about five thousand cubic metres will be required, the cost being £2,200 sterling.

The balloon is to be capable of carrying three persons with the necessary instruments and ballast. It will be sufficiently gas-tight to hover in the air for thirty days at a height of 250 metres. M. Andre's idea is to contain a sledge, a mauling-boat, several weapons with ammunition and a photographic camera.

Early next spring it is proposed to erect a balloon-house and after filling the balloon to start on the voyage for the pole in July, in a fresh south or north-easterly wind.

The duration of the voyage must of course largely depend on the strength of the wind. It might possibly last only five or six hours, but M. Andre expects that it will take at least forty.

Thirty days, he believes, will suffice to reach the central polar basin and taking a complete survey of it. The return journey is to be towards the inhabited parts of North America and South Siberia. With a wind of average speed, M. Andre says the balloon can make 18,000 kilometres in three days whereas it takes from Spain to the Bering Straits via the Pole is only 3700.

Dr. H. Wichman of Gotha, one of the most eminent German geographers, in commenting on the project, says: "The execution of the bold project is of course to be seriously influenced by many external contingencies; the project is not a means a fanatic one, but has been maturely and cautiously worked out in the light of science. This is best proved by the eminent meteorologist who was in charge of the Swedish observatory at Spitsbergen in 1882 and 1883 and has announced that he will take part in the expedition."

LONDON, July 30.—The delegates to the Geographical Congress were today entertained at a garden party given by Baron Burdette-Coutts and William L. Ashmead-Bartlett.

THE MUMMY AND THE ELECTRIC RAILROAD.

Modern invention is reaching out in every direction to benefit the world. The old lands where the race was cradled are to receive the benefits of a younger civilization, and Yankee invention is to thrill the atmosphere of the Nile and stir the sleepy air of the lands of the Pharaohs. The spirit of advancement is abroad and electric railways are promised for Cairo, Egypt, next year, so we learn from the Electrical Review, and Alexandria will soon follow suit.

There are several bidders for a concession for an electric railway from Cairo to the Pyramids, a distance of ten miles, to accommodate the enormous number of winter visitors to the winter capital. When these roads are completed the sleep of the centuries will be broken, and the musty atmosphere of the past be everywhere stirred by the life of today. Past the tombs of the dead old Pharaohs the modern electric car will rush along its lines, and the lids of the centuries be lifted to learn its meaning. We no longer have any veneration for the silence of the past. The camel will flee before the bicycle. It is a new world in which we live, one with new methods and means of advancement. We think along new lines and have no more use for ancient usages than have the Egyptian mummies. We cannot wake them, but Yankee enterprise will rouse the land in which they once lived and soon put it in touch with the Occident. The harnessed lightning has a work to do in old Egypt and the advent of the electric car by the banks of the sleepy Nile will be the entering wedge which shall ultimately bring into closer touch the civilization of the Orient and the Occident. Menno may yet awake, and the dumb Sphynx find a voice that shall be eloquent for progress.

NEW YORK'S EXCISE LAW.

The manner in which Tammany was enabled to levy blackmail on the saloon-keepers under the excise law which Commissioner Roosevelt is now enforcing so vigorously in New York city, is explained by the former editor of the Wine and Spirit Gazette in an interview. At first the saloon-keepers were required to pay cash to Tammany to secure immunity from arrest. They finally rebelled and the master was compromised by exacting from them unswerving loyalty to Tammany Hall in all elections and in the distribution of patronage. Any saloon-keeper who refused to be made the servant of the Tammany bosses had his place raided on the next Sunday. In this way, the saloon-keepers were forced to support Tammany in all matters, whether they wished to do so or not.

The law in question was passed by a Democratic Legislature and approved by a Democratic Governor. It was not designed to be honestly enforced, but was devised for the sole purpose of placing more power in the hands of Tammany. Its object was admirably fulfilled so long as Tammany remained in power. Saloon-keepers could habitually violate the law with impunity so long as they obeyed the behests of their masters. But the law's penalties were visited upon them whenever they presumed to exercise individual independence in political action, which they seldom did. It was a beautiful illustration of the perfect working of a political machine, duly set up, lubricated, and set in motion.

But a change came over the scene when Tammany was overthrown and a clean administration was placed in charge of New York city affairs. This new administration has not been able to reform everything at once, but it is getting along as well as could be expected under the circumstances. It has agreed to protect the treasury against gold raids until October. It can well afford to do this, after the heavy profits it realized on the recent bond deal.

The subsidence of the free-coalition agitation in Georgia is coincidental, to some extent, with the harvesting of the unusually large watermelon crop. Prosperity takes the wind out of the calamitytide's sails every time.

Of the 12,000 saloon-keepers of New York city whose "good moral character" entitled them to license, 8000 have served terms in prison. This is a fact whose suggestiveness it is impossible to escape.

MEN AND WOMEN OF THE COAST.

Prof. and Mrs. George Howison of the State University have gone to St. Helena for a vacation.

Mrs. Edna Stoll Polson has returned to Oakland from an extended visit to Pasadena and Los Angeles.

Capt. T. de L. Carrington of the regular army, inspector of the National Guard, was in San Francisco last week.

A. M. Lawrence, a well-known newspaperman of San Francisco, has gone to Australia, where he will stay till next winter.

Mr. C. T. Mills, president of Mills Seminary and College, near Oakland, has returned from a visit of about three weeks to the Eastern States.

Lieut. John B. Milton, S. N., has arrived in San Francisco from the East, having been detailed to succeed Lieut. Thomas S. Phelps as navigating officer of the Olympia.

Prof. Elton Fulmer of the State University of Washington was in China last week compiling information regarding the sugar industry, for use in the State of Washington.

Hans S. G. Hibben and family arrived in Honolulu on the morning of July 4, attended the celebration by American residents and left next day, by vessel, for the volcano.

Assemblies R. L. Thomas of Nevada County and Miss May James, daughter of William James, a landowner of Butte County, were married in San Francisco last week.

PITH OF THE COAST PRESS.

(Pasadena News) Durrant expects a verdict in his favor and the Oregonian that thinks Californians are the descendants of murderers and thus thinks he will get it.

(Alameda Telegram) California has been making progress enough. She is now, however, becoming fully alive to her glorious possibilities. The grim spectre of hard times is fast disappearing.

(Tacoma Ledger) Stockton, Cal., is making bribe-taking by public officials unpopular. It already has one official convicted and sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary. Another is on trial and many are waiting.

(San Francisco Call) The idea of holding the next Republican National Convention in San Francisco grows in public favor in the East, and with proper cultivation on our part will receive general acceptance there.

(Carson City Appeal) A Los Angeles hotel built in the boom days has collapsed. The only man due amounting to $9000, has induced millions of Eastern and foreign capital to invest in the great Southern California.

(Sacramento Bee) The interesting fact that a Santa Ana man is going to send his son to college in order that he may be disciplined, what has the fond father done with the family blacksnake?

(Phoenix Herald) It looks very much as though it would be for the best government to give the Bank of Idaho in Idaho such a loan as the Apache of this Territory received a few years since. They are a murderous and unruly lot and need a cleaning out.

(Seattle Times) With the Count of Monte Cristo, the bloomer can say, "The world is mine." Chicago has had a blooming ball and a money market. It is in the last it was not always easy to tell the difference between the boys and the girls, but a youth who cannot tell a maiden by instinct is not worthy of serious consideration.

(Redlands Citrograph) The Santa Barbara Press compliments Los Angeles on securing the next addition to the National Guard association, but we still strain it to accommodate fifteen thousand guests. Guess twice that many will not "strain" anything by next year, if building goes on as it has been going for the past year.

(Helena, Mont., Independent) The American Congressman is elected to office one year before he is privileged to attend the session of Congress. Issues are born and old ones pass away in the time. In England parliament is dissolved one week, its successor elected the next week and the third week sees the chosen of the people actively at work. Which is the better plan?

(Maryville Appeal) Secretary Leopold of the State Board of Horticulture and some of his co-resolutionists, have performed some gymnastics that now leave them in line with Gov. Budd, in so far as the State Board of Horticulture is concerned. They are even willing to let the state board to Sammamish. Their resolution belongs to the Governor's researches in this matter.

It is not to be congratulated on bringing the office-holding parasites to terms.

(San Francisco Examiner) It is not too much to say that the public would like to see the Spanish-American War again. Americans disengaged, if not repelled. It is believed that we have not at present the honor of being at war with Spain, and the honor of being a neutral target is too empty to be especially coveted. Of course there is always ready the explanation that Spain is acting with her rights, which is enabling several more rights than she can support with dignity.

(Oakland Times) There are thousands of Americans wandering over Europe and trying to enjoy its discomforts for the half-dozen time who know the privilege of life, the dear and beauties of their own country.

It is a fad and a fashion. Let the boys and girls see America first; then if they have the time and means look at Europe, and all the East. We cultivate un-American ideas in rushing them off Europe as the one thing needed in their education. Come to California, where the scenery exceeds that of Europe in every feature of grandeur and beauty.

(Seattle Blade) A gentleman who stood a few moments at the Oceanside station, delivered the following apostrophe to the climate of Southern California by the sea. "This climate is so soothing as a mother's song, as healing as a physician's touch, and nourishing as the bread of life. It is the culmination and realization of all good weather from the sweet perfumed air of Hellas to the fragrant twilight of old England." I would rather have ten years of life in this climate with the rest of the world than board and clothe than fifty years of the hostile climate of New England with millions in my pocket." This gentleman may have a weakness for rhetoric, but his head is level on California soil.

I would not bid you force the door.

The key in kindness is withheld:

Your part to watch and pray:

Be it as you will, the rest:

To him who doeth all things best.

You have a band of little ones.

A husband kind and true,

A home where all is rest,

And daily tasks are through?

Then envy not the rich, the great;

Yours is a happier estate.

No queen who proudly sits enthroned,

Whose vassals come and go,

Can ever feel the sweet content

It is your lot to know.

With sunny heads about your knee,

Dear heart, how happy you should be!

Oh, guide the little ones aright,

With tender love and care:

Teach them to sing gay glee sooth,

Their childish pleasure share.

Your smile will make their faces bright;

When you are kind their hearts are light.

And do not heed the thorns that prick

When roses strew the way:

Enjoy the present blissful hour:

Ere it shall pass away:

For all is fleeting here below:

The circling years bring joy and woe.

BE GLAD AND SING.

THE BIRDING IN THE NEST.

When summer time has come,

We find the birds are busy,

And fly away

To seek another home.

Your lonely heart will sadly yearn;

Those childhood days can never return.

And sorrow comes to each and all;

A day, and who can tell?

The bird's nest is a merry peal;

And song and music fill the rest.

To him who doeth all things best.

ALL ALONG THE LINE.

The City Trustees down at Santa Ana are beginning to talk about a sewer system for that town. The Times hopes this project will fare better than the electric light proposition.

One way to have peace is to fight for it; another way to preserve peace at a Spiritualists' meeting is to escort unbelievers from the grounds before the "spirits" begin to wheeze.

Oregon county comes to the front with another gold discovery in the San Juan hills. As yet the quantity secured is not large but the quality of the ore is reported to be very good.

Santa Monica's next fish story will be a free clam bake. It may not be as strong an attraction as has been heretofore enjoyed, but the date of his demise is to be blown in the shell for each clam.

The County Supervisors yesterday received a request from the Chamber of Commerce for an appropriation for the Los Angeles county exhibit at the Atlanta Exposition, to which it is to be hoped they will respond. In this Southern gathering a new field is opened up, for effective advertisement of this part of the country, and the opportunity is too good to be missed by an ill-timed economy on the part of the county.

Fuma wants to have a branch Soldiers' Home located in that place, and the Sentinel says: "The government is already possessed of forty acres of desirable ground in the old quartermaster's depot, situated within ten minutes' walk of the center of town, together with buildings thereon which can be utilized. This fact would save a large expenditure of money. The Colorado River runs by the land, and pipe connections are already made with the reservoir which supplies the town, insuring an immediate supply of water for domestic purposes."

It is a rare thing to see any one taking snuff in these fine de siecle days. It is no longer "good form." The man or woman who, in polite society of the present day, would pull out his or her gold, diamond-ornamented snuffbox and scoop several ounces of the aromatic herb up his or her nostrils, would be everlastingly ostracized and cast into the "wretched's pit," where there is walling and gnashing of teeth and sneezing until you can't rest. Yet there must be some considerable few who continue to sniff snuff, for, according to the latest government reports, over one million pounds were manufactured in the United States in 1894. Now sneeze!

The impression which prevails among the civilian intelligence that a metropolitan police force is in some way governed by military regulations, is apt to receive a rude shock when collided with by a sample of retribution such as was yesterday meted out to a self-confessed deserter from his post of duty: a police officer who incontinently skipped to his downy couch when the public and his superior officers presumed him to be guarding the portion of the city under his care and—incidentally—earning his wages. The absurdly light sentence imposed on this offender may indicate softness of the heart, but will not be apt to induce respect for the soundness of discipline.

The City Council will do well in building the new city jail—which, by the way, is not being built very fast—to make provision for an electric police patrol system. By means of such a system officers on their beats would be enabled to communicate with the central station much more readily, and in case of murder or similar crime all the officers could be notified of it with much less delay. By requiring each officer to communicate with the central station every hour while on duty there would be little danger of his being away from his beat for any considerable length of time without the fact being discovered. A suitable electric police patrol system would also relieve officers from the unpleasant necessity of using private telephones.

M. G. McKoon and E. A. Pomeroy had such phenomenal luck fishing yesterday that they have prolonged their stay on the island another day in the hopes of decoying more game from the briny. Mr. McKoon hauled in a 246-pound jewfish, which, six feet long, and Mr. Pomeroy did not let the surface only to see them winkle with one eye and disappear beneath the waves again.

PEOPLES FROM EVERYWHERE.

Last Sunday evening up at the church a conference meeting was held after the regular service and the pastor invited each participant to mention the State where he resided. As a result, there were Eastern States—New York, Maine, Boston, Canada, Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois, Ohio and others—and from three foreign countries—India, England and Russia. All these in a little band of a score, perhaps, of citizens. This shows the cosmopolitan character of California's throng. A goodly sum of money was raised by collection and subscription for the benefit of the church at the morning service.

F. C. Bolt, president of the San Gabriel Bank at Pasadena, arrived at the Metropole last night.

CHINESE MURDER CASE GONE TO THE JURY.

Trial of Wyatt-Finley Steals His Child-Church Case Continued—The Board of Supervisors.

The Slim Punishment Meted Out to a Recreant Police Officer—More Scandalous Charges Filed.

A Spring-street Saloon License That Was Denied—Special Stars to be Made for Special Officers—City Hall Notes.

The Police Commissioners held an anomalous session yesterday morning, suspending a member of the police force for thirty days upon the charges made by the sergeant of police, who in turn was accused by a private citizen, before the board, of rather scandalous doings. No definite action was taken in the matter of the Boyle-Heights police station.

At the Courthouse yesterday the conclusion of the argument in the Wong Wing case took up the entire day, the case going late to the jury.

Harry L. Wyatt was tried before Judge Young for embezzlement. The Board of Supervisors met and got through with a long list of routine affairs.

AT THE CITY HALL.

POLICE COMMISSIONERS.

Officer Arguello Was Suspended for Thirty Days.

The case of Officer Alfred Arguello, accused of neglect of performing his duty, occupied the major portion of the time of the Board of Police Commissioners at their regular session yesterday morning.

Charges were preferred against the officer at the last meeting of the board, but, owing to the absence of witnesses in the case, the matter was laid over until yesterday.

Officer Arguello is a mounted officer, living in Boyle Heights while his beat is in the southeast corner of the city. About two weeks ago Sam Smith and Detective Auldey, acting under the instructions of Chief Glass, followed Officer Arguello after the officer had left the station, and after tracking him over a portion of his beat discovered that Mr. Arguello purposed spending the night in the bosom of his family instead of the office. They accordingly telephoned to his care. The officers who tracked Arguello on this fatal night declared before the Police Commissioners yesterday that he beat about 8:30. They submitted for the inspection of the board the route which both were followed by the recreant officer, and testified to having found him in his lodgings in Boyle Heights.

Officer Arguello was present, and in broken Spanish testified to the truth of a portion of the charges preferred against him. He stated to the commissioners that on the day when he made his fatal slip he had been sojourning at the Landry ranch where he had in the unknown vicinity of the semi-enclosed watermelons and the juicy cantaloupe. The pernicious effects of these vegetables are well known, and Mr. Arguello was no exception to the rule, which makes a violent consumption of the articles in question result in direful consequences. In plain language, with no Spanish, the officer admitted himself to have been suffering from a vicious attack of stomachache. For this cause, and this alone, the officer alleges, he steered his horse's head away from the scene of duty toward the spot where dwelt his fondest hopes.

The attorney who conducted the statement made by Sergeant Smith, several particulars, declaring that he did not reach his home until 11 o'clock. The sergeant, however, responded to the denial of Officer Arguello by showing up his record in the past, as known to the sergeant. "This is not the first time that Officer Arguello has been accused of carelessness and neglect," said Sergeant Smith. "Times without number we have been positive that he was not on his beat. We have sent men out to search for him, without success, and have been convinced that he was neglecting his duty. It was only by threatening him with discharge that I was able to force him to comply with the rule requiring all officers to report by telephone twice during the night." The chief corroborated the statement of the sergeant as to the trouble experienced in the past in keeping Mr. Arguello back in the traces. Then Mayor Bauer took up the theme. "Are you on friendly terms with Mr. Arguello?" asked the Mayor, addressing Sergeant Smith. Mr. Smith replied in the affirmative, stating that he endeavored to do his duty as sergeant without fear, favor, prejudice or partiality. Officer Arguello was again on deck, when the Mayor turned to him with the statement, "You know sergeant," said the officer, "that we had trouble nine years ago in Boyle Heights, when my horse got in your barley field; and you know that we have never been on friendly terms. You have followed me in many times and tried to catch me in dollar words. You remember when you found you in a tree on Twenty-third street, trying to spy on me, and I have seen you in the weeds on my beat. You always had it in for me and you know it."

The sergeant contented himself with a short defense of these little affairs and the matter was thus disposed of by the board. Commissioner Weber favored a dismissal of the officer, but, upon the motion of Commissioner Barham, the officer was suspended for thirty days without pay. The chief was instructed to administer a severe reprimand to the sergeant for informing his superior of his offense, and to subject him to dismissal from the force.

Chief Glass brought the subject of special officers and special stars before the board, stating that he objected to these special officers, who were never known to make an arrest, wearing the stars and other uniforms. He recommended that a special star be made for special officers.

Commissioners Weber and Field were appointed a committee to investigate the matter and report as to the feasibility of making a new brand of stars. The board reported funds in the treasury received from the sale of stars, amounting to $12. The money will be appropriated to the police pension fund.

The members of the Council Finance Committee appeared before the board to confer with them regarding the lease of room for jail purposes on Boyle Heights. Chief Glass was asked by the Mayor if he considered a jail necessary in Boyle Heights. The chief replied that he did not. Some desultory discussion followed upon the subject, the sentiment of the commissioners appearing to be that as the jail is not needed, it would be unwise to have it there. No definite action was taken upon the matter.

The application of Frank Hoffman for a saloon license at 344 South Spring street was denied. The application of W. W. Chase for a transfer of the saloon license of E. Marshall to himself was granted.

The application of Theodore Timm for a saloon license at 124 San Fernando street was granted. The following communication was received by the Board:

To the Police Commissioners of Los Angeles City:

Gentlemen—I hereby prefer charges against Sergeant Smith, a member of the police force of this city, of committing an unbecoming a policeman and a scoundrel. The charge is made referring to a respectable wife of a respectable gentleman, who are residents and taxpayers of this city.

The time, place and remarks are more fully set forth in the affidavit which accompanies these charges. Respectfully submitted,

R. O'CONNOR.

The complainant, Mr. O'Connor, was present, ready to substantiate the affidavits he presented, which declared that as Mrs. O'Connell was describing the step of the Calvary Institute on Second street, Sergeant Smith made remarks concerning her which would not look well in print. Hearing in the matter was deferred for one week.

A petition signed by a large number of residents was received by the Board of Police. Heist, recently discharged from the force, reinstated. The petition was filed.

The application of S. J. Gilmore and Tony Zorb for transfer of the license at 171 South Spring street was referred to the chief, as was and the application of Charles Russell for a transfer of the license at 267 South Los Angeles street to himself.

CITY ATTORNEY DUNN.

He Explains His Position Upon the Water Question.

William Dunn, attorney for the city of Los Angeles, is anxious to have it understood that it was largely owing to his personal solicitation that the contract with the law firm of Lee & Scott was referred to the chief, as was and the application of Charles Russell for a transfer of the license at 267 South Los Angeles street to himself.

WONG WING.

The defense of Wong Wing, Mr. Gage declared, was that of an innocent man, and his presence at the shooting, if indeed he were present, did not imply complicity in the crime. There was a heavy preponderance of testimony as to Wong Wing's absence, and Mr. Gage's firm belief was that he was not present.

Wong Wing had sworn upon the witness stand that Ah Mow had given directions to the dying Suey to incriminate him, therefore the dying statement must have been actuated by revenge, and the wish that his death should not remain unanswered.

Mr. Gage concluded by urgently requesting the jury to bring in a verdict of not guilty, and the court adjourned until the afternoon.

When the court convened again Deputy District Attorney McComas demanded that the attorney for the prosecution. He made a clear, concise review of the defense, which he declared, was divided into three parts: the attempt to prove an alibi for Wong Wing and Wong Chee; the attack on the evidence of Suey and the statements of Ah Mow's directions to the dying man. Each point was discussed at length and skillfully refuted, and the importance attached by the defense to the throwing out of the dying statement was swept aside with the assertion that the dying statement had no weight at all with the prosecution.

Mr. McComas was frequently interrupted by Mr. Phipps, who sought to introduce extraneous evidence taken from the coroner's inquest. The interest in the District Attorney's speech, which occupied the entire afternoon, remained undimmed to the last, the clear, logical conclusions followed each other like hammer-strokes, and the quaint expressions which embodied them caused many a ripple of laughter in the courtroom.

The case went late to the jury, and an agreement has not yet been reached.

of them in evidence was justifiable only in cases of extreme necessity.

Mr. Gage then dwelt emphatically upon the point that the prosecution was asking the court to sustain the fatal shot was fired by Wong Wing, and proceeded to review the evidence that, to him, showed conclusively that Wong Wing had nothing to do with the murder.

In the case of A. B. McCullum vs. W. T. Williams, a suit for note for $189, the judgment went for the plaintiff by default.

Judge York yesterday handed down a legal opinion in the case of I. W. Gardner et al. vs. John T. Wood, an action to recover a sum in which judgment was given for the defendant.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.

A Large Volume of Business Transacted Yesterday.

The Board of Supervisors met in regular session yesterday, and disposed of a goodly amount of routine work.

Upon motion of Supervisor Hay, George Holton, Esq., was authorized and directed to represent Los Angeles county before the Supreme Court at San Francisco in the matter of Summarum vs. Los Angeles county.

The manager of the laundry in the Orange Belt Irrigation District came up yesterday before the board, and upon motion of Supervisor Woodward, was referred to the District Attorney.

The master of the Manyan Irrigation District was continued for hearing until next Monday.

The Redondo Beach and Hotel Companies submitted a petition to the Board of Supervisors yesterday, requesting them to make an order directing the County Auditor to draw his order on the County Treasurer for the payment of $1,000,000 in taxes collected by the City of Redondo Beach. Upon motion of Supervisor Hay, the matter was referred to the District Attorney.

Mr. Arnold called attention to the fact that the assessment of the property of Southern California had been increased 21-3 per cent. He thought it would be a fair proposition to Mr. Holton to let the assessment stand, because the board might increase the assessment roll 10 per cent.

Mr. Morehouse asked whether the increase of $5,000,000 valuation in Los Angeles was due to the fact that the road had improved. Mr. Holton replied that he would not so regard it. Mr. Colgan called attention to the increase of 14,000 children in the school census in Southern California and contended that that fact implied a proportional increase in population and in business as well. The board took the matter under advisement.

CENTRAL PACIFIC.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—The Examiner tomorrow will say that the Central Pacific Railroad Company has avoided a receivership by making arrangements to postpone the payment of its bonds, now matured, three years.

The company will pay a dividend of one-half of 1 per cent. on the stock of the company, which was announced a few days ago. Sir Rivers Wilson is to have engineering the deal when he was in this country a few months ago by harmonizing the conflicting interests of the foreign stock and bondholders.

YELLOWSTONE PARK RAILROAD.

OMAHA, July 30.—It is the purpose of the Burlington Railroad to ask Congress for a right-of-way through Yellowstone Park, agreeing to keep up the track in perfect manner and give all rights to enter the park of the Burlington tracks in a certain yearly rental. Out in the west it is believed that the Burlington will build into Montana and open up a new country.

AN ALUMNI BANQUET.

The Festivities of the Woodbury Business College.

Between two hundred and three hundred people gathered at Illinois Hall last evening to enjoy the annual alumni banquet given by Woodbury's Business College. The students and alumni had spent the most of the day decorating the hall for the event, and the result of their efforts was a charming scene.

Four graceful festoons of pepper-sprays hung from the center to the corners of the hall. The front of the stage, from which an orchestra of twenty-five musicians gave a performance throughout the evening, was draped in the national colors. On either side were great clumps of feathered date-palm leaves. The tables were arranged in the form of two eight-pointed stars, each with a pointed palm as a center.

After a hearty meal in talk and in promenade to the music of the orchestra, the guests seated themselves at the tables and discussed the daintiness of the food.

Upon motion of Supervisor Woodward, it was ordered that a fund be created to be known as the building fund for the Burlington, and the amount of $5000 was announced. The money should be used for the construction of a building to be known as the Burlington building.

PLenty of TIME YET.

CHICAGO, July 30.—The transcontinental roads have declined to consider rates and arrangements for the Baptist anniversary which it is proposed to hold in Portland, Or., next year. They object to taking action so far in advance and say that it will be ample time for them to consider rates when it is time for certain railroads to meet.

A committee from the Chamber of Commerce, consisting of C. D. Willard, J. S. Slauson, George W. Parsons, E. C. Klocke and Gen. Charles F. Beale, met with the Board of Supervisors yesterday to recommend to them the great advantages of a fine display from this county at the Atlanta Exposition, and to ask that an appropriation be made for the purpose. The committee requested the board to set aside $10,000 for the exhibition fund, and pledged themselves to raise double the amount to complete it. The matter was taken under advisement.

Federal Grand Jury.

The United States grand jury met yesterday, pursuant to adjournment, but without presenting any indictments an adjournment was taken till next Tuesday.

THE BICYCLE PLAY.

It Was Rehearsed at the Theater Last Evening.

In the New Los Angeles Theatre a dress rehearsal of the melodrama, "Around the World on Wheels," was given last evening under the direction of Lorimer Johnson, the leading man of the performance. The most important roles of the play are taken by professional actors, the local wheelmen filling in the remainder of the cast.

The argument of the drama has been published and is known to have a strong bicycle flavor, which will, in all probability, find high favor with the wheelmen's contingent which is certain to be in evidence during progress of the engagement.

The rehearsal last evening gives promise of an entertainment which will be somewhat of a novelty to the theater-going people of the city, introducing, as it does, a realistic road race, a journey on a wheel around the world, and other features which have not been worked to death by dramatists in the past. The first production of the melodrama will be given this evening.

CAME IN FROM THE EAST.

The following-named passengers arrived in Los Angeles from the east Monday afternoon on the Burlington excursion: Nellie Harris, Mary E. Harris, Rev. G. R. A COMMITTEE FROM THE EAST.

THE POLICE COURT.

Lawbreakers Punished by Justice Owens Yesterday.

In the Police Court yesterday Herbert H. Lowe and G. H. Haney, two hack-drivers who had a scrap Monday evening, were fined $10 each for disturbing the peace.

Lillian Lee, the white wife of a Chinaman, was acquitted of the charge of selling lottery tickets. The cases of Ah Hack and Ah Sing, charged with similar offenses, were taken under advisement.

John Thomas, a colored fortune-teller, was convicted of petty larceny and will be sentenced August 1. Thomas stole a gold ring of a woman who keeps a fruit stand on Commercial street, while telling her fortune.

Jimmy Fennell, the incorrigible twin boy who has a penchant for stealing grain, was sent up to the Superior Court, where it was ruled that he will be committed to Whittier, if the court sees fit.

As Jim, the celestial who stole an oil stove on July 28, was given a sentence of 100 days for petty larceny. The records of the court show that he was convicted of a similar charge, but was released on bail, and was allowed to go home in time to try for him.

Jim said he would just as soon spend a year in jail as not, as he has found that prison fare agrees with him.

ARIZONA NEWS.

PHOENIX IS TO HAVE A NEW STREET-CAR LINE.

Suit Over the Refunding of the Maricopa and Phoenix Rail-way Bonds.

Changes in School Regulations—The Work on the Agua Fria Canal and Reservoir Going On.

The Edmunds Act Again in Evidence. Educators to Meet—A Fight Over Nogales Incorporation—Electric Light at Flagstaff.

PHOENIX, July 29.—(Regular Correspondence.) Another street-car line will be built here, the longest in Phoenix. It will run along the Yuma road a distance of eighteen miles. The Board of Supervisors this morning granted the franchise. The grantees are the Fowler Bros. Messrs. Fowler have three sections of land, which they will cut into ten-acre tracts and put on the market. The road, they expect, will give better connection with the city. Care for the hauling of light freight will also be put on. A condition of the franchise is that eight miles of the road shall be in operation by July 1, 1896. Work will be instituted about the 1st of October of this year.

IMMIGRATION COMMISSIONERS.

Immigration Commissioner F. J. O'Brien today presented his claim for salary to the Board of Supervisors. District Attorney Miller endorsed the claim "not legal," and the Board refused to audit it. An effort will be made to compel the Board to pay the claim. Several counties of the Territory have refused to pay similar bills.

RAILWAY BONDS.

A suit has been filed against S. C. Helmman, plaintiff, vs. C. P. Leitch as Territorial Auditor and as chairman of the Territorial Board of Equalization, H. C. Boone, H. C. Underwood and Morris Goldwater, members of the said Board of Equalization, J. J. Tolson, Territorial Treasurer, J. T. Priest, W. M. Standage and W. L. George, as members of the Board of Supervisors of Maricopa county, Ariz., I. H. Cox, as clerk of said board and D. L. Murray, as Treasurer of Maricopa county, Arizona. The suit has been filed in the District Court here. The cause is one of the most important in years here. It involves the validity of funding bonds issued in lieu of bonds of the Maricopa and Phoenix railway bonds, to the amount of $300,000. The Whirlwind bondholders are seeking to bring in the Maricopa and Phoenix and render existence by authorizing an issue of bonds of $300,000, bearing interest at 7 per cent. When the debts of the Territory were funded the holders of these 7 per cent bonds exchanged them for funding bonds bearing 5 per cent interest. The fight on the validity of their bonds comes on the issue that they are the result of "special legislation" and therefore illegal under the famous "Harrison Act." Mr. Helmman becomes plaintiff as one of the taxpayers of Maricopa county, who sought to enjoin the name of defendant from the publication of interest and principal on the ground that the county of Maricopa had no power to issue bonds to aid in the construction of the said railroad or of any railroad whatsoever; that the said bonds were and are absolutely void, and constitute an infringement on the said county of Maricopa, which the said loan commissioners were authorized or empowered to take up, pay and cancel by the issuance of the bonds of the Territory of Arizona instead thereof. The case is in the court of an appeal of bonds was decided adversely in the First District Court at Tucson a year or two ago by Judge Sloan, in the case of Lewis, a London bondholder, vs. the county of Pima of the Board of Supervisors of that county having authority to sue the Town and Globe road bonds. Judge Sloan held that the bonds were invalid, in which view he was sustained by the Supreme Court. No adverse decision can affect the Maricopa and Phoenix, the beneficiary of the act of the Thirteenth Legislature. It has obtained the benefit and even the bonds have gone out of existence. Whether or not their successors, the Territorial bonds, may be affected by the suit is said by lawyers to be a close question.

SCHOOL CHANGES.

Changes in school regulations were made by the joint school boards, as follows: The schools will open at 8:30 instead of 9 o'clock as heretofore. They will be dismissed for the noon hour at 11:30 o'clock. The afternoon session will last from 1 to 4 p.m. with a recess of fifteen minutes. To economize in room and save providing additional accommodations for the primary grade, one-half of the tots of the first grade will have session in the forenoon, and the other half in the afternoon.

WORK AT AGUA FRIA.

Wednesday of this week Messrs. Toohey & George will complete their contract at the Agua Fria canal and reservoir. They cut a canal through almost solid rock four miles in length, twenty feet wide on the bottom and six and one-half feet deep. Messrs. Coleman & Trainor, who succeeded Messrs. Allen & Sons in charge of work there, are pushing work on the reservoir with part of the old force and men from the Toohey & George force.

THE WEATHER BUREAU.

Hereafter better weather may be expected in Phoenix. The Weather Bureau for the Territory has been removed to Phoenix from Tucson. The change to Phoenix is made as the more central point and the natural location for the bureau for the Territory. The location of the bureau has not been decided on, but will probably be arranged by the Chamber of Commerce. Observations cannot be made for several days yet.

DANGEROUS FUN.

Several Phoenix clerks have of late "just for fun" when out sprinkling the sidewalks, pointed the hose at the arc lamps "to see them sputter." Should an unbroken stream be made between the hose and the lamp they will get more fun than they bargained for. Each lamp carries 2250 volts on them, and when used for electrification at Sing Sing. Both water and the brass nozzles are good conductors of electricity. Phoenix water is a good conductor of electricity.

TUCSON.

TUCSON, July 29.—(Regular Correspondence.) The surveying party of the North and South road is located at the corral at Convent and Jackson streets. They report that no serious engineering difficulties were encountered between here and Phoenix, and much of the line is very favorable. They are considering three routes into Tucson and are now in the valley at the foot of Congress street, on the first of the three. The first route is the old Edwards road, just outside the western limits of town. Another will enter the city on Fifth avenue, and the third will enter on the east side, in Bruckner's addition.

GOOD INDIANS NOT DEAD.

The adage, "There is no good Indian but a dead one," will some day become obsolete. While educated Indians are not an unmixed good, some excellent results have been obtained here in Tucson.

son with pupils of the Indian school. The girls have been in demand as household servants, and it now seems likely that the boys will be of some account as laborers. The curriculum here provides for half a day at books and half a day in the fields, or at the bench for the boys and the same time at household duties for the girls. Superintendent Billman of the school here took a contract to grade the streets of Tucson; and the work was done with the Indian boys as laborers. These Indians are not the long-haired, tattooed, greasy variety, but are dressed suitably for their work and with close cropped hair and wearing hats present the appearance of any Eastern city. They work steadily and cheerfully, and a noticeable feature is that they do not keep up a stream of profanity and complaints such as are so common among more "civilized" workmen. Nor do they beat and jerk the teams and yell out a volley of oaths when the horses do not do to please. This is not so customary among their Caucasian neighbors as laborers and under the supervision of white men the educated Indians may become a success, as the girls have as household servants under white care. But let them get back to the reservation and the lack of water for irrigation and the lazy and debasing associations of the tribe and their education usually counts for mighty little.

AN OLD STORY.

The Edmunds act is again to the fore, in the arrest of the poorer class of Mexicans for adultery, being the cause. Ricardo de Ramirez and Enero Olivas have been taken to Phoenix, charged with adultery. Ricardo Ramirez, husband of the woman, applied for a divorce, stating in his petition that the woman was living in adultery at Mammoth with Olivas. On trial they were arrested and committed, being unable to furnish $100 bail. The woman is less than 20 years old. The case will doubtless never get beyond the grand jury. United States Attorney Ellingsworth says of such cases, that the intent of the Edmunds law was not to persecute ignorant Mexican. It is of such cases that he made his famous remark, "Can a burro commit fornication?"

PRESCOTT.

PRESCOTT, July 29.—(Regular Correspondence.) Indications are good for abundance of water at the city well on Goose Flat from the deepening now in progress. Although an additional depth of but ten feet has been made, work had to be abandoned because of the heavy volume of water, the pump being inadequate to handle the flow and heavier machinery will be put in. The contract calls for a depth of seventy-five feet.

Edwards will meet in the office of the Probate Judge on Saturday, Aug. 4, 1895, for the purpose of fixing a time which will be most suitable to sight the payment for any assistance for himself in the fight of the Board of Supervisors to sustain the county classification law. The law cuts salaries of county officials, and among others Mr. Jones' salary was cut $250 a year by the law. The board, in their opinion, believed Mr. Jones would not fight for the law. Edwards will not fight for the law, but Mr. Jones would not fight for the law either. Edwards engaged Judge Kibbey of Phoenix, to assist him. Saturday the board issued a warrant for Judge Kibbey for $250, in payment for his services at Prescott before the Supreme Court. In this case Edwards and it was presented to the Deputy Procurator Adams for payment. That official gave by request for the warrant one of Treasurer Dysart's checks on a Phoenix bank, marked the warrant "paid" and supposed that ended the matter, but when Mr. Jones got out his papers enjoicing the payment of the check and the Court Commissioner granted the injunction. By this time the check, which had been given in payment of the warrant, was en route to Judge Kibbey at Phoenix. Adams took the position which was plain business, on the fact that the warrant had already been paid and that he had not the power to undo the transaction. The District Attorney and Court Commissioner took a different view of the matter, and argued that as the Treasurer's check had been given for the warrant payment would not be complete until the check was cashed at the bank. Considerable argument was indulged in, and finally, on the peremptory order of the Court Commissioner, Deputy Adams telegraphed the bank to refuse payment on the check. Edwards is quick to say that a check can easily be forged and the result will probably be a lawsuit.

NOGALES.

NOGALES, July 29.—(Regular Correspondence.) An organized fight has been made on the incorporation of Nogales by about forty of the business men of the town. They have pooled together the sum of two thousand dollars to be defended by a common fund and the case carried through to the Supreme Court. A few days ago the Town Clerk, D. J. Cummings, made a demand on various business men for payment of their licenses. In all but one case they refused. Two days later the Town Commissioners rounded them up and they were ordered to pay up or leave town. The arrested were as follows: J. Paschalis two warrants, for selling groceries and spirituous liquors with licenses; J. Paschalis and J. Taylor, jointly, for conducting an insurance office and doing brokerage without license; F. G. Hernandez, broker, without license; L. Lutley, two warrants, for keeping a gambling table without license; M. Escalona, selling groceries without license; M. Sambrano, running delivery wagon without license. A change of venue was made by Judge Vanderlip of Crittenden. Judge Wright of Tucson has been engaged for the prosecution, and Judge Williamson of Nogales for the defense.

The claim is made that the tax on property is unreasonably high, that taxes and licenses are unmercifully high, the rate being high enough to provide revenue in one year that would run the city for three years. The merchants feel that they are being imposed on.

FLAGSTAFF, July 29.—(Regular Correspondence.) The effort to organize an electric-light plant here will probably be successful. Fay produced no evidence to the contrary, and the coroners did not put him on the witness stand.

SOLOMONVILLE, July 29.—(Regular Correspondence.) District Attorney Jones is fulfilling his threat to sight the payment for any assistance for himself in the fight of the Board of Supervisors to sustain the county classification law. The law cuts salaries of county officials, and among others Mr. Jones' salary was cut $250 a year by the law. The board, in their opinion, believed Mr. Jones would not fight for the law. BEN BARNEY IS AVENGED, BUT NOT VINDICATED.

The Hornets of the Spiritualistic Camp Use Their Stings on an Unbeliever—Shameful Treatment of a Gray-haired Man.

SANTA MONICA, July 30.—(Special Correspondence.) Since the appearance of the Times letter exposing the fraudulent practices of the medium, Ben Barney, the Spiritualist camp here has been a dangerous place for skeptics and newspaper correspondents. But for the fact that your correspondent had the occult power of making himself invisible to physical eyes his health might have been impaired by his visits to the camp. Last Times readers would have learned nothing further of the true inwardness of this conference—but in the guise of an innocent and careless observer, he has come and gone, taken his notes, and is prepared to reveal the true character of that "liberalism" which sets itself up to criticize and denounce the intolerance of the church, and pretends to flaunt its banners of "progress" in the face and eyes of a respectable community.

The programme for Monday evening shows the name of Ben Barney in the role of test medium. As the hour for the meeting approached a nondescript crowd began to assemble in the tent; a few hours later skeptics and enquirers were there, but most of the audience was composed of confirmed Spiritualists who hug to their fond bosoms the delusion that Ben Barney is an honest medium and a martyr to a noble cause. Special preparations had been made for this meeting, for it was the first appearance of Barney after his exposure and the members of the camp had determined to suppress all further criticism. Special policemen, newly sworn in as deputies, wearing tin stars on their vests, walked up and down the aisles, frowning and glowering upon the people. It did not seem possible that this place was dedicated to the search for truth, but rather that it was some Russian conclave, dominated by the arrogant and brutal emissaries of the Czar.

Among the few intelligent-looking visitors who deposited their dimes at the door of the tent was Rev. Solon Lauer, who was especially singled out for the shafts of ridicule. A bold arraignment of Barney on Friday evening, as he laid down his money the door-keeper was heard to growl in a surly tone: "If you make any disturbance here tonight you will be run off the grounds." Mr. Lauer paused a moment, and then asked: "Is this meeting open to all? I am a professor of making converts to your cause, or merely for the purpose of amusing and entertaining Spiritualists? If you are here to convert skeptics, I will enter. If not, I will retire. I simply ask the same privileges you grant to others." At once the door-keeper became exclaiming and a deputation went up to use his newly-acquired authority and club. The clergyman passed into the tent and quietly took his seat in a front row. Your correspondent learned afterward that he had a sealed letter in his pocket which he intended to offer to Mr. Barney containing sentences like "Grover Latin" and "Etc." But no such test of Mr. Barney's sacred office of oracle was to be permitted. The special policemen singled out the pastor for their especial charge, and the scowling glances they cast at him throughout the meeting showed too plainly their anxiety to find some cause for trouble.

The speaker of the evening was Bowman of Los Angeles, the late Populist candidate, now out of a job as a statesman. His eulogy of freedom and tolerance found response in the frequent applause of the audience, but was totally unnoticed by the animus of the managers of the camp. It is one thing to applaud sentiment, but another to practice it. This old gentleman in Dr. Kimball's Spiritualist camp and a medium, rather erratic, vital and somewhat childish in his old age. He is one of those harmless but obtrusive individuals whose voices often raised in public meetings, and who, anywhere save in a Spiritualist camp, would be quickly quieted for a few moments and permitted to enjoy the rare luxury of addressing an audience. But on this occasion his voice was the signal for war. Evidently mistaking their brother for a pestilential skeptic who might be inclined to ask troublesome and unanswerable questions, two policemen, armed with truncheons, office by the camp authorities, not because they were interested in the maintenance of law and justice, but because they were zealous Spiritualists who might be depended on to enforce the doctrines of their faith, even with their fists, rushed up to the old man and began to drag him from the tent. He grasped at one of the benches, and was brutally torn away and dragged along amid murmur from the audience of "Shame! Shame!" to treat a poor old man like that!" Several others ran to their feet, among them James, symon of Pasadena and Rev. Solon Lauer.

Mr. Lynch stepped toward the struggling men, and, in tones of sympathy, exclaimed: "Gentlemen, he is an old man. Don't be too hard with him." Mr. Lynch made no effort for general treatment of one whose offense was insignificant, and whose years and gray hairs should have been his protection among any but brutes in human form. Dr. Kimball ceased to resist, and the officers, still armed, trundled with rage and excitement, seized Mr. Lynch, and hurried him from the tent, offering no resistance. Another "officer" rushed up to Rev. Mr. Lauer, who was standing where could observe the proceedings. The "officer" advised that Lauer must begin to force him to a seat. Mr. Lauer explained that he was merely looking on with no intention of making any disturbance, and maintained his right to stand for that purpose. Then the pent-up animosity of the camp toward Mr. Lauer found expression. "He was rudely hurried to the door, making resistance, and pushed out into the open air. Several men in the audience rose and followed him, and a riot was imminent, which was only avoided by Mr. Lauer's coolness and firmness. Officers were there who would have fought for him, but he insisted that there was no violence. He asked the "officer": "Why have you forced me from your meeting?"

The officer replied in excited tones: "You made a disturbance here before, and we wanted to clear it again." "I was standing on one's feet in your tent, a misdemeanor," he was going to make a disturbance."

"Excuse my contradiction, my friend, but you are mistaken. I had no such intention. You have forcibly dragged me from your meeting without legal cause. You are doing something that will bring you into trouble, both upon camp and upon your cause. Listen to a friendly word of advice, and desist. Allow me to resume my place in your tent. I have paid my admission fee, and given no cause for this treatment." There is the substance of the remarks which passed between Mr. Lauer and the "officer" who had pushed him from the tent. A short distance away, Mr. Lynch, who was trying to dissuade the "officer" who had dragged him out. But their long pent up anger was not to be easily appeased. In spite of the remonstrance of the bystanders both gentlemen were escorted to the border of the camp grounds, where a number of men soon collected to offer themselves as legal witnesses to the outrage.

After the resumption of the meeting Barney mounted the platform, a gleam of malicious satisfaction in his eyes. He brought out his little box and produced his book before, and recited the adulation of his dupes. He read no sealed letters, but gave some pretended "tests," which satisfied none but the gullible. The charge of fraud has not been met, and Ben Barney still stands convicted before fair-minded people of trafficking in the most dear and holy affections of the human heart.

The camp meeting which can tolerate so palpable a fraud in its midst, and defend him by the exercise of tyranny and brute force, must merit the contempt of all decent and respectable people, and the cause for which it stands, whatever good it may embrace, must continue to suffer the reproach and censure which it has so boundlessly received in the past.

Your correspondent is glad to present the following statement from the two gentlemen who figured as dependents in this action. Mr. Lauer says: "I went to the meeting to see whether Mr. Barney would do anything to clear himself of the charge of fraud. I went in a spirit of fairness and inquiry, and with no intention of speaking or otherwise attacking the managers of the meeting. When the police came in the employ of the camp assailed the old man for what did not seem to me a serious offense. I rose to better observe their treatment of him; and if Mr. Lynch had not spoken to them and pleaded for me my representation should have requested the chairman of the meeting to interfere in the old man's behalf. I consider the treatment of this poor old man most brutal and unwarrantable. It would not be tolerated in any meeting where the spirit of justice and humanity prevails. It cannot be denied that the lasting injury of this camp and the cause of spiritualism. Public sentiment today will not tolerate such a spirit of barbarism; and the movement which harbors and defends it must lose the respect of all decent people. As for fraudulence and imposition, I deny them more than I despise them. The business of trafficking in dead bodies for the dissector's table is respectable compared with that of falsely trafficking in the affections and hopes of human beings; but those who so far forget their mankind as to engage out all their holiest sentiments as to engage in the trade of dishonest mediums, are subjects for pity and sympathy even more than blame. It is largely the depraved and abnormal appetite for the phenomenal among Spiritualists which tempts medium to practice fraud; and Spiritualists must act as their agents and ascend to a higher plane of life and thought before their mediums and speakers can live above reproach. As for the violence offered me on the camp grounds, I acted it out and made them angry and excited. They have disgraced their office and the cause they sought to befriend; and that is penalty enough."

Mr. Lynch upon being interviewed by your correspondent, said:

"I was present at the meeting as an honest inquirer. I had no thought of disturbing the meeting. When I saw the police so shamefully abusing Mr. Kimball, who seemed to me innocent of any evil intent, I sought to dissuade them. Any man with a heart in him must have felt indignation at the brutal treatment of a tottering old man. I shall steer clear of such places as this hereafter. They are a lot of cranks and bigots, and I am glad they showed so forcibly that I am not one of them. Considering the character of the people who run the camp, I consider it a compliment."

Mr. Kimball, on being interviewed, said in substance:

"My purpose in speaking was to call attention to the difference between the whale which swallowed Jonah and the Santa Monica whale referred to in the newspapers. Mr. Green, I am told, says that the whale which swallowed Jonah is a symbolic expression for a run hole, and that thousands of young men are being swallowed today by that same kind of a whale. I meant no harm by my remarks, and did not imagine that they would be interpreted as I am an old man—78 years old. I am pretty feeble, and they used me very badly. My arms are sore this morning, but I have no ill-will toward the men. I went over this morning to find the man who dragged me out, and wanted to shake hands with him. He responded to my greeting much more than he did me."

The Mayor of Santa Monica, on being interviewed, stated that the deputies were green men, appointed temporarily, to save the camp the expense of having a regular police force. He said their conduct and stated that he should visit the camp authorities and personally investigate the matter. An officer of experience, he declared, would not have lost his temper. He stated that he knew Dr. Kimball as an innocent and innocent old man, and that no officer would be justified in using violence toward him.

M. L. Hostetter and F. M. Koontz, lumbermen of Santa Monica, gave their names as witnesses to the whole proceeding.

A. M. Thornton states to your correspondent that he witnessed the affair, saw the officer clap his hand over Dr. Kimball's mouth and employ great violence in dragging him from the tent. He considers the affair an outrage upon justice and decency. Many others would testify in the same strain, but space forbids.

GREEN'S DEMON.

Drink Nerved a Laundryman to Commit Suicide.

After one or two futile attempts to kill himself, Jerome J. Green finally succeeded in ending his life, accomplishing his purpose with strychnine at an early hour yesterday morning.

Green was a hard drinker and his subjects became quiet and the family thought he had dropped into a quiet number. When he was coming home and they returned to their part of the house, they found him dead in bed. On a chair close by was an empty vial labeled "strychnine," and a note, dated July 27, and addressed to his ten-year-old son, Percy, inelegantly worded, but evidently intended to bequeath to the boy his interest in lot 21, block 10, Wolfskill tract, the place where the Green family resided.

The coroner held an inquest at Kregelio & Bressee's in the afternoon and the jury rendered a verdict of suicide by strychnine.

Green was a native of Kentucky, 37 years old and had resided in Los Angeles twenty-two years. He was a laundryman by trade and did laundry work for the Koster Cafe.

He was a brother of Mrs. Mooney, whose husband was accidentally shot and killed at Santa Monica eight years ago. Mrs. John Lang, who figured in a tragedy in Jack's restaurant about a month ago, was also present. She was with him in his presence, was also his sister, as was Mrs. Dan Dougherty of San Francisco. His only brother, Alfred S. Green, is an expressman, residing at No. 711 Macy street.

AN OLD MAN'S MISHAP.

Milton Wolfkiss, the aged flagman of the Southern Pacific Company at the Aliso-street crossing, was run over by an ice wagon yesterday morning and his left leg broken between the knee and ankle, besides being otherwise injured. Wolfkiss is 77 years old and did not see the wagon approaching in time to step out of the way. The driver of the vehicle, it is alleged, could easily have avoided running over the old man, by being more careful. After Wolfkiss's fractured limb was set at the Receiving Hospital, he was removed to his home at No. 459 East Third street. He is a brother of John Wolfkiss and has been in the employ of the Southern Pacific Company several years.

The afternoon programmes were rendered by the older boys, and were exceedingly well done and highly interesting.

Both Mr. Mullens and Mr. Patterson made a few pleasant remarks of encouragement and recognition of the boys' work. The gentlemen were evidently great favorites with the boys, for they gave grins with glee and enthusiastic hand-clapping.

After the programme a dress parade was given on the ground.

Today two companies will go over to Catalina to erect the tents, make preparations for the remaining five companies, who will go over on Friday. Free transportation is furnished them to San Pedro by the Southern Pacific Company, and to Catalina by the Banning Bros., who also furnish them the grounds free. The supplies are sent over, a carload each day, from the school, so that the outing does not cost the State a dollar.
